1. What cookies are

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website. They help the site work properly, remember your choices, and show us how the site is used so we can improve it.

2. Cookies we use

- Essential cookies. Needed for the site to function, including the booking form and security features. These cannot be switched off.
- Analytics cookies. Help us understand which pages people visit and where the site can improve, for example through Google Analytics. Data is aggregated and does not identify you personally.
- Functionality cookies. Remember choices you make, like your cookie preferences.
- Third-party content cookies. Some pages embed content from Google Maps, Instagram, or video platforms. These providers may set their own cookies, governed by their own policies.

3. Your choices

- When you first visit, our cookie banner lets you accept or decline non-essential cookies. Declining never blocks you from using the site.
- You can change your choice at any time through the cookie settings link in the website footer.
- You can also clear or block cookies in your browser settings. The site will still work, though some conveniences may be lost.
